This is why I like to make a clean list of all available resources before I start an in-depth analysis.

Oregon lost more in the Tax Credits than in loans. I've scheduled a call with OBDD to review the exact amount of credit and how value was transferred; should clean up some lingering questions on income resources. Also; the two men listed are individuals I am able to concretely tie to Solopower. Others need more supporting documentation before I will trust the relationship.

Questions or concerns, my direct line
I'm in the office today until 2:30
